

PRIORITIES

A handwriting practice sheet featuring ten rows of primary-ruled lines. Each row is defined by a solid top line, a dashed midline, and a solid bottom line. At the start of each row, there is a small, empty square box, likely intended for a student's initials or a mark. The entire sheet is designed to help children practice consistent letter height and placement on lined paper.

NOTES

SCHEDULE

TO DO

[illegible]